How does it work?

The information shown below is intended as a hypothetical case, it is a general summary and for illustration purpose only.

Scenario: Business owners Mr. and Mrs. Client have an estate worth approximately HKD10 million. They would like to leave HKD3 million to each of their two children as inheritance.

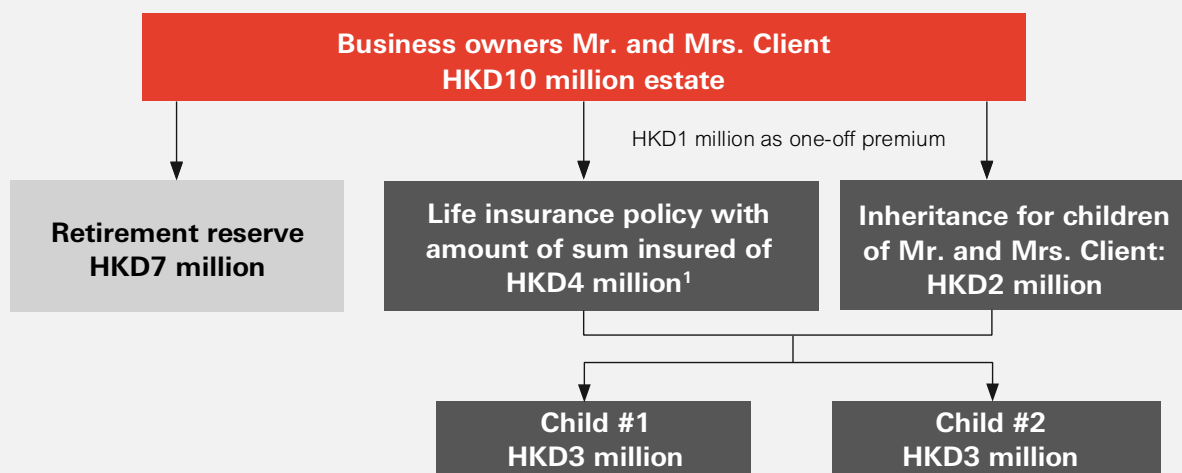

♦ Without Legacy Planning:

Mr. and Mrs. Client have to ensure they spend no more than HKD4 million during their retirement in order to leave HKD6 million for their children's inheritance in their will.

♦ With Legacy Planning:

A life insurance policy (with an amount of sum insured of HKD4 million¹) can be purchased with life insured as either Mr. or Mrs. Client by paying HKD1 million as a one-off premium. Another HKD2 million can be put aside for their children's inheritance through a will. This will make HKD7 million available for Mr. and Mrs. Client's retirement, twice as much as the retirement reserve they would have with no legacy planning.

¹ The actual amount of sum insured will vary based on the life insured's gender, age, country/region rating of permanent residence and underwriting class. The terms of the policy are subject to underwriting decisions and may change from time to time.
